MY CAREER ADVISOR

With ever increasing pathways available to students, parents and caregivers are turning to schools for information and direction about careers and work education. Parents are already time poor as they negotiate family and work life, while school guidance counselors and career advisors are continually juggling their work day to meet the needs of students.

Increasingly there are many students who need the help of a career advisor in a secondary school, ranging from applying to part-time work, researching TAFE and University courses etc.....Sound familiar???

... Because young people of today are an online generation, we have developed - My Career Advisor. It is an online career education resource which can be accessible 24/7 by all members of your school community - by a simple link placed on your school website.

... My Career Advisor will save you time by directing students and parents to various websites; provides direct links to tertiary providers Australia wide; gives information on how to choose school subjects; how to find work experience; a part time job or an apprenticeship and much more...

... My Career Advisor will not replace you or the valuable service you provide to your school and its students. It is designed to be a tool to assist students, parents and yourself. How often are you asked the same questions, each and every day? , eg. how do you do a resume; how do I find work experience etc etc.

...My Career Advisor steers parents and students in the direction of useful websites and centralises all of this career information in the one user-friendly place. It provides a series of 'Step by Step Career Pathways' sections where parents work with their children. There is a wealth of information for families to research together.
